Came Near Burning to Death.

The bedding in the cell of James Burns, at the county jail, caught fire Tuesday night in some unaccountable manner and Burns had a narrow escape from burning to death. He was a stranger to the police and was a one-armed man. The prompt manner in which Jailer Judy responded to the loud rapping on the inside of the jail is the only thing that saved the man from a horrible death, as his clothes were on fire when he was pulled from the cell. He had been taken in for drunkenness.

DEATHS.

Mrs. Carthenia Hodge, aged 59 years, wife of John Hodge, an employee of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, and residing on Tenth street, died Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. Mrs. Hodge is survived by thirteen living children, all of whom reside in Bourbon and Montgomery counties. She was an exemplary Christian woman. The funeral occurred Wednesday afternoon, services being conducted by Elder Carey E. Morgan, the burial taking place at Paris cemetery.

'Squire Lilleston Dead.

In the death of 'Squire Shelby M. Lilleston, which took place Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock, at his home on Higgins Avenue, Paris loses one of its oldest and most highly respected citizens. He was 77 years of age and his death resulted from heart failure and general debility.

For more than half a century 'Squire Lilleston has been identified with the business interest and the welfare of the citizens of this community. He was a quiet man, and we never heard of him speaking ill of anyone. He was charitable, kind-hearted, a loving and devoted husband and father.

At the outbreak of the civil war he was a telegraph operator and upon the induction of Abraham Lincoln into office he was appointed postmaster, which position he filled creditably for a number of years.

Mr. Lilleston served as magistrate of the Paris precinct for sixteen years, and made an efficient officer. He was a consistent member of the Methodist Church for many years.

He is survived by his wife, Bettie C. Lilleston, four daughters and four sons, viz: Miss Annie Lilleston, of Emporia, Kas.; Miss Mattie D. Lilleston, of Helena, Ark.; Miss Blanche Lilleston, of Hamburg, Ark.; Miss Laura Lilleston, of this city; Henry and Lyford Lilleston, of Kanass City, Mo.; W. F. Lilleston, of Parsons, Kas.; L. T. Lilleston, of this city.

The funeral services will be held this (Friday) morning at 10 o'clock, from the residence, conducted by Rev. J. P. Strother. The interment will be in the Paris cemetery.

B. C. Whitney's "Piff! Paff! Pouf!"

"Piff! Paff! Pouf!" B. C. Whitney's great musical attraction, which comes to the Paris Grand next Tuesday, November 13, is essentially a musical show, and comes to this city with record of over eight months at the New York Casino. This company is one of the largest and most expensive musical organization ever formed, and contains among the principal members such well known stage favorites as Henrietta Lee, Denman Maley, Emilie Gardner, Chas. P. Morrison, Olive Woolford, Chas. H. Holly, Lula McConnell, J. C. Mendall, Fannie Ide, John Dyer, Lisle Bloodgood, Campbell McKinley and others, including a chorus of over half a hundred people.

The songs are the features of the piece and are of a character that compels appreciation. In fact, there is a song hit in the air all the time and they follow each other in rapid succession, with a snap and go that is always relished. Stanislaus Stange, author of "Dolly Varden" and other famous successes, wrote the book, and Wm. Jerome and Jean Schwartz, composers of lyrics and score, have repeated their "Bedelia" and "Mr. Dooley" numbers in the way their songs have caught on and hit the public. Some of the more popular ones are: "I'm the Ghost That Never Walked," "Lutie," "Under The Goo-Goo Tree," "My Unkissed Man," "The Melancholy Sunbeam and The Rose," "Dolly Dimple," "Macaroni," "I'm So Happy," "Cordelia" Malone and others.

"Piff! Paff! Pouf!" has been given an elaborate stage setting by Mr. Whitney, and costuming, electrical and mechanical effects are in accord with the high standard set by this well-known producer. The production as a whole meets with unbounded favor wherever presented.
